

Jill Goodwin grew up in the dance world. With a dance educator and adjudicator for a mom, she spent most of her time at the dance studio and at dance competitions. After many years performing and competing, she studied dance at Dean College but majored in Early Childhood Education. She has taught and choreographed for various local studios, gymnastics centers and musical theater groups. Jill has been the director of the dance program for the SMARTS (Southern Massachusetts Arts) Collaborative since 2006. She is also a certified fitness professional and former Jazzercise instructor. She began teaching dance and acrobatics at Express in 2007. She has two children of her own who are also performers and they have kept her very busy! Jill loves to share her passion for dance with all her students and is proud to be part of the Express family!!
