

MELISSA AMERSHEK

Melissa is a graduate from Rutgers University with her BA in Dance. She has been listed as one of the “Top Choreographers to Watch” by Dance Spirit/Teacher Magazine. Melissa was a New England Patriots Cheerleader and performed in New Orleans at Super Bowl XXXVI. Her notable performing experience includes Disney World Magic Kingdom. Television credits include principal dance roles with ESPN and Pepsi Commercials.

Melissa currently prides herself on being one of the top choreographers in the Northeast with awards such as “Top Choreographer”, “Most Creative”, “Best Staging”, “Most Entertaining” and a 4-time Industry Dance Award winner for the highest scoring jazz and tap routines. Melissa has trained 15 regional and national title winners. Her dancers have not only earned college scholarships, but they are also currently dancing professionally in NYC, LA and Boston. Melissa has had the honor of producing and choreographing the open act for the Radio City Rockettes and is currently a competition judge for Headliners.